February). There continues to be many properties sold that have been on the market for quite a while. A home sold in Northumberland this month that had been on the market for 1691 days! The fact that these properties that have been on the market for a long period of time are now selling is a positive indicator that our market is slowly improving. On the other end of the spectrum an unimproved waterfront property sold in Weems for very close to the listing price that was only on the market for 51 days.

There were 6 waterfront homes sold in the two counties last month (figure 2). For a second month in a row, there were more waterfront homes sold in Northumberland than in Lancaster.

This month was the first time since The Shultz Team started producing monthly sales reports that the highest price property sold was unimproved waterfront land. A large parcel sold on Windmill Point Road for $500,000. Like many of the lots that sold last month this one was on the market for a long time (1262 days).

The Shultz Team has been very busy recently, mostly with getting properties on the market. The good reports about the real estate market that have been on the news recently have plenty of people thinking about putting their property on the market. Lets hope buyers follow!
